CRUISER CINCINNATL

Successful Launching of Our New Manof-War at Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 10 .- Amid the cheering of 3,000 people this afternoon the Cincinnati, Uncle Sam's newest cruiser, slid gracefully from the ways into the water of the East river, where she was welcomed by the guns of the Atlantic, Miantonoman and Philadelphia. It was not a pretty launching, but mechanically was a success. Rain fell steadily all the morning, and the awning, which had been placed over the platform to protect the invited guests from the weather, did not fulfill its mission. Everybody got wet from Sec-retary Tracy down, and many of the guests went away before the launching

It was 2 o'clock when the props and blocks had been knocked from under the hull and the cruiser rested in her cradle, which was held on the ways by the sole-piers. Then the saws cut through the sole-piers and the vessel was clear. But she did not move. At a word from Naval Constructor Fernand the hydraulic rams were manned. Suddenly the great steel hull began to

She said: "I christen thee 'Cincinnati.'" shape drew favorable comments from the experts who were present and cheers from the crowd. Half a dozen tugs surrounded her and towed her to the navy yard dock, where the work on her will be completed. On the platform with Miss Mosby, when the christening took place, were Secretary Tracy, Assistant Secretary Soley of the Navy Department, John B. Mosby, mayor of Cincinnati, J. M. Blair, L. B. Keck, George Gerke, Wil-liam McAllister, William H. Meyers, of the chamber of commerce of Cincin-nati; George P. Storritt, Edward Diost, Robert Roberts and Scott Bonham, of the board of legislation of Cincinnati; Commodore Erbin, commandant of the navy yard, officers from the United States man of war and of the Italian cruiser Bausan, and a number of Brooklyn's citizens with their wives and daughters were on a large platform. The band played inspiring airs on another platform, while the rain beat down on their heads. The Cincinnati is the second of the new war ships built at the Brooklyn navy yards. She is a protected cruiser of 3,192 tons displacement; 300 feet in length, forty-two feet beam and with a mean draught of eighteen feet. She will have twin screws and vertical triple expansion engines of 1,000 horse power, with a steam pressure of 100 pounds. She will be one of the fastest vessels in the wavy, as her average speed will be nineteen knots. Her armament will consist of a main bat-tery of ten five-nich rapid fire guns and one six-inch breech loading rifle, a secondary battery of eight six-Election Law.

MOST HEART RENDING SCENES

The Awful Fate Which Overtook a Party in the Cabooss of a Freight Train.

OTTUNWA, Ia., Nov. 10 .- A fearful sceident occurred on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road last night at Highland Center, a small station north of Ottumwa. A fast freight train dashed into the caboose of the local freight, which was standing on the track, telescoping the caboose and four cars. The caboose caught fire and with several cars was burned. The scene was hartending. Four people perished in the flames, and a number of others had narrow escapes. The caboose was split in two by a car of grain, wedging in four people on the right side.

The most pluful sight was that of Miss Lazie Butler of Ottumwa, who got her head out of the window and piteously pleaded with those about the wreck to save her, but her body was pinioned by the freight car and it was impossible to extricate her. Mre. dashed into the caboose of the

The injured are Mrs. Clyde Millisack and Mrs. C. D. Pickett of Ottumwa, and Miss Lizzie Corcy of Sigsumey, who are badly burned, but not fatally. GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT.

The Corn Crop Throughout the Country Has Been Unsatisfactory.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- The crop report issued by the agricultural departport issued by the agricultural department shows the average yield for corn in the seven states, as follows: Onio, 29; Indiana, 27; Illinois, 25; Iowa, 28; Missouri, 28; Kansas, 23.3; Nebraska, 28.7. The average yield of buckwheat is 14 bushels per acre. In New York, 14.7; Pennsylvania, 14.5; Wisconsin, 13.5; Iowa, 10.7. The crop returns for November to the department of agriculture with those of October indicate culture with those of October indicate the yield of principal food products and point approximately to the per-fected estimates at the close of the year. The yield of corn averages, by November returns, 22.4 bushels per acre, and promises an aggregate production of a little more than 1,600,000,-000 bushels, while the other wheat, by the returns of last month, pointed to a product based on an average investiga-tion, nearly perfected, not exceeding 500,000,000—the possibility of shrink-age in threshing and light weight. In the northern states of the Atlantic coast the crop ripened well. In the cotton states it was injured somewhat It was just 2:12 p. m. as the great ship, with Onio wine dripping from her prow, moved from the spot where she had been built, and with a gradually increasing pace took the water with a graceful dip and rode majestically out graceful dip and rode majestically out toward mid-stream. She kept an even keel and her graceful lines and trim and better than was expected on late and better than was expected on late planting, and in view of the long continued drouth. The local yields are extremely variable.

There is much complaint of lightness of ears and loosenes in the cob in Illi nois and the same variability in yield and quality elsewhere. It is well dried out and undamaged by drouth. Some was injured by being cut and shocked too early. There is much chaffy corn and the average weight will be light. Iowa corn has ripened well, heavy frosts being delayed until the last week in October, but late planted is shriveled from the rapid drying of an inmature ear. A part of the crop is sound and good and a portion is very light. The low lying areas were dam-aged irrevocably by the excessive moisture of early summer.

Wet weather in the spring and drouth in summer reduced quantity and quality in Missouri. The average in Kansas is reduced by the low yield of seed corn, which is, of course, in-cluded in the aggregate. Lower bottom lands here yielded better than uplands, as the season was too dry for a large part of the breadth. Scorching winds in June injured the crop materially. Nebraska corn, of early planting, ripened thoroughly. Some of the latest planting put in with the lister was plowed up and sown to wheat. The variability of the yield makes it difficult to fix a fair average. In low places there was some injury from

The estimated yield of potatoes is sixty-two bushels per acre. It is eightytwo in Main, sixty-three in New York, sixty in Pennsylvania, sixty-two in Michigan, seventy in Minnesota, seventy-one in lows and forty-seven in Kansas. The crop is almost everywhere light. The tubers small as a rule and rotting considerably in New York and throughout the west. The average yield, of hay is 1.17 tons per acre nearly the same as in 1891.
